

10 Barossa Valley luxury accommodations for a lavish escape

4. Le Mas

Be transported to the charms of Bordeaux and Burgundy with a stay at Le Mas, the Barossa Valley's dazzling French-inspired hotel. Blending rugged Australian terrain with Provencal sophistication, the luxury Barossa Valley accommodation feels otherworldly from the moment you arrive.

You'll spy a field of vines, grown to produce Le Mas' own collection of wines in addition to servicing Rockford Wines, as you travel down a dirt driveway in the small suburb of Rowland Flat before landing at a beautiful collection of King and Queen rooms.

Find Old World charm in spades at Le Mas.

The Deluxe Kings are where it's at, complete with deep stone bathtubs built under large windows that let in garden views, while the Superior Kings are extremely comfortable with silk blinds and a lovely skylight right above a rain showerhead.

Soak away the day in the stone bathtub.

Queen rooms feel special too, situated at the front of the property and offering views of those vines, plus in-room massages and personal yoga sessions can be arranged for all guests. Life gets even sweeter at the heated pool and within The Orangerie, Le Mas' very chic on-site restaurant, crafting traditional Provencal dishes like duck pate, escargots and moules frites.

Dip in the heated pool surrounded by lush greenery.
